HASH HOUSE LEAGUE.

Season Opens with Victory for Walkers and D. K. E's.

The great Hash House League opened its second season of organized baseball on Saturday, April 25th with two five inning games. In the first contest, a fiercely fought one by the way, the "Castle Walkers" defeated the "Once Overs" by the score of 10 to 9. "Wild Bill" and "Cyclone" Ratti twirled for the victors while Clif Day officiated for the defeated. "Clif" opened festivities by fanning "Hutch" who made up in uniform what he lacked in batting average. "Wild Bill" was hit by a wide one and took base. Several errors, another martyrd batsman, a hit by Ratti and a base on balls resulted in six runs. Kuebler and "Cab" ended the agony by whiffing scientifically. The "Once Overs" rushed to bat determined on revenge. Damon walked and stole second. Coates hit scoring Damon. "Hemp" looked 'em over carefully and walked and Day drove him and Coates in with a whistling two bagger. "Wild Bill" settled down and when Clif scored on a wild heave, the scoring ended. In the second, Walkers went out in order and without denting the platter. The "Once Overs" by good hitting scored one lonesome tally off Ratti, the Proctor Cyclone. The third inning resulted in one run for Walkers and three for the pursuing tail enders. Bicknell put himself into the limelight by executing the Merkle trick quite cleverly. He forgot to touch third and umpire "Hank" Weafer, showing his deep inside knowledge of the American game, waved him out. To open the fourth "Cab,, fanned on three lusty swats which showed determination if nothing else. "Hutch" once more fell by the wayside but "Bill" and Thorpe crossed the rubber. In the fifth Ratti scored what proved to be the winning run by stealing home while Pitcher Clif, who was winding up got tangled up in his sombrero and failed to hear the warnings. The "Once Overs" came in two runs to the bad and Clif strode to bat ready to do his "durndest". With a mighty swing he drove Ratti's first offering far over center field for the circuit. Clark walked and stole second and third and everyone was yelling for a tie but Quirk and Thomas perished on flies and the mighty "Tyrus" Wright whiffed leaving the score; Walker's 10—Hash House 9.

The second game was one of these one sided picnics. The D. K. E. Mexicans defeated the Chi Psi Cyclones 10 to 3. Foote pitched well for the victors but Hutchinson received poor support and was unable to stave off defeat. In the opening inning the Mexicans scored 7 runs and had things their own way from then to the end. More of the series later.

A lot of hard work has been put into the new athletic field and diamond and track are in good condition. All will be in good trim for the New Hampshire and U. V. M. games of May 8th and 9th. A high board fence is to be erected later in the season.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held a very Interesting and helpful meeting in the Hemicycle on Thursday, April 23rd. The association was unusually fortunate in having Mrs. Burrage as speaker. The topic for the afternoon was "Choosing a Profession" and Mrs. Burrage spoke of the varions professions now open to college women. She pointed out that there are so many more fields open to women now than there were ten or fifteen years ago that no girl ought to he forced to choose work distastful to her or not in harmony with her talents. Almost any work done by men in the professional world is open to women and there are splendid opportunities for the girl with a college education. Mrs. Burrage mentioned the small number of women who prepare for college professorships and expressed the hope that every class graduating from Middlebury might have several girls who would fit themselves for this work. Among the newer fields opening up is "steamer teaching" which is very interesting and profitable. Some of the professions spoken of required capital as well as training but Mrs. Burrage assured the girls that there were many others which required nothing but a willingness to work, without which any girl would fail anywhere. In closing, Mrs. Burrage gave a few helpful suggestions applicable to student life right here in college. The meeting was exceedingly practical and beneficial not only to seniors but to every girl in college. The girls are very grateful to Mrs. Burrage.

TENNIS NEWS.

Officers Elected and Work on the Courts Begun.

The Tennis association held its annual meeting on Wednesnay. April 22nd. The following officers were elected: President, Professor Robinson; vice-president, Kimball '15; secretary-treasurer, Danolds '17; manager, Parker, '17; assistant manager, Dade '15. Professor Robinson and Manager Parker discussed the necessity of a heavier outlay of money on the courts this season and President Thomas, after hearing the case, said that the college would aid the association in the work of repair. On the 24th Manager Parker entered energetically into the task assigned to him and with a goodly force of freshmen to aid him soon had "Reconstruction" under way. We have wished for better courts for some time and now we should aid in keeping the improved ones in trim. The trouble with the upper court has always been that it has been very pebbly and it has always been a hard job to keep it in shape with these pebbles continually working to the surface. However, with the promised aid, the manager will soon have everything shipshape and ready for deadly combat. Come out and don't forget to pay your dues to the treasurer.

Fisher.

It is with pleasure that THE CAMPUS calls the attention of "Middleburyites" to the work of Physical Director "Pick" Fisher in the early season's work of the New York Americans. Altho Fisher has not played in many games as yet, his showing so far has been of the best, and those who follow his career are looking forward with anticipation to a most successful season for him.

Pick made his first appearance on the diamond in a practice game with Beaumont, Texas, which he won with a score of 14–6. His next appearance was against Brooklyn, when he pitched the last two innings against that team, holding them to one run. Last week he pitched the first eight innings against Boehling of Washington. Washington got two runs off Pick in this game, both however, being due to errors on the part of New York men. Fisher pitched a beautiful game, but was removed to give place for a pinch hitter. Altho "King" Cole finished the game, he did not keep up to the work set by Fisher and the fans declare that Fisher might have won the game if allowed to stay in the box.

With such a good start it is not to be wondered at if Fisher makes a record for himself this season. His work in the "Gym" this winter has left him in fine condition and he promises to show us his real "speed" this year.

At a meeting of the freshmen class held in the chapel on Friday, April 24, the following elections took place: Hutchinson, captain of track; Kent, manager of track; Dewhirst, captain of base ball; Ottman, manager of base ball.

TRACK ATHLETICS.

Every Prospect of a Successful Season.

MEET WITH U. V. M. ON MAY 7TH.

Interest in track Athletics seems to have reached a higher point this season than in any previous year in the history of the college. Rightly so, too, for this department of college athletics which offers more possibilities for renown for Middlebury than any other single activity, has long been neglected. Under the supervision of Coach Murch the track squad has taken a sudden spurt and this year promises to open the eyes of track fans to the ability of our track men, so long left latent.

About thirty men have been practicing daily for he meets which are soon to come. Men who show exceptional ability in the various events are Hutchinson, Dade, Lamere, Locklin, Cassavant, Lee and Triggs. For the dashes Hutchinson, who has done the 100-yard sprint in a little over 10 seconds, Triggs, Ferguson, Bresnahan. Wheeler, Lee and Rogers are out for pole vault. Hollister is showing up well in the quarter mile and 880 yards and will make Hubbard, McCullough, MacLaughlin and Hyde, the other contestants for the long dash honors "hump" some to get a look in. Lamere still looks solid for first place in the mile and two mile runs, but he will have severe competition in the persons of Kron, Salisbury and Jenkins, who, it is said, runs a hundred miles or so before breakfast just to get "woke up." Altho' Condit will probably not be able to enter any of the weight events, we still have a number of strong men who show exceptionally good form. Davis, Paulsen, Rogers, Hard, Somers, Mason, Reynolds and Day are chief among these "White Hopes," and the "pill" is sure going to do some bounding when these men get after it next week.

The track has been given a new coat of cinders and is well rolled. A jumping pit has been constructed with a well prepared "approach" and a specially designed "take-off" board. The classes have elected the following men to captain their teams: Seniors, Triggs; Juniors, Day; Sophomores, Paulsen; Freshmen, Hutchinson.

The inter-class meet will take place Saturday next at the Porter Athletic Field at which time the team to represent Middlebury against U. V. M. the following Thursday (at Middlebury) will be chosen. Negotiations are being carried on, too. for a meet with R. P. I. to be held at Troy, N. Y., either May 23d or 30th.

The Smokeless "Smoker."

A "smoker" under the auspices of the new Middlebury Union was scheduled in the gym for Thursday evening last as a send-off to the base ball team on its first trip to New York. News of the cancellation of the game caused plans for the smoker to terminate, so the union conducted its business meeting and dispersed. Junior week plans were the chief subject of discussion.

EDITORIAL.

An old tradition of the college seems to be doomed to extinction by the new fad now being instituted at our informal dances by certain individuals who make it a point to arrange their dance orders long before they arrive on the floor. Such practice violates a long standing custom of polite society whose passing destroys a most valuable feature of the informal dances which have hitherto been such a pleasure to the whole student body. Our informal dances should remain as they were formerly—college events. Fraternity dances are usually private affairs, and their introduction into supposedly college events is a decidedly unwholesome attack upon the none too vigorous college spirit which we claim to support.

"More Light, Oh Lord, More Light"

So the Hebrews cried two thousand years ago as they lifted their eyes to the skies above and the west wind swept their voices upward over the desert wastes to the heavens above. So we of Middlebury, as we stumble homeward, groping our way among puddles or snow drifts as the season may designate, colliding with trees by way of diversion, embracing hidden friend or foe as we unexpectedly run across them in the shades of night, raise our voices to the skies, the west wind or whoever may care to listen, and cry for light. Occasionally some well disposed person answers our plea by lending a match, but still are our wants unsatisfied.

What we want are electric lights, oceans of 'em, and we would like to have them distributed at intervals along the college walks from Chapel to College street thru the park, from Painter Hall to Pearsons and Hillside, and from Chapel to the "Gym".

Not only would such lights be of convenience in marking the way homeward and in the avoidance of the pitfalls and quicksands which seem to infest our walks, but we think that some cute little iron lamp-posts, from which the lights might be suspended, would be a distinct adjunct, from an esthetic viewpoint, to our campus.

P. S. This editorial has been approved by all but the "Fusser's Club."

Individuality.

If a large person wishes to look ridiculous, let him wear a small person's hat; but if anyman wishes to be more than absurd, let him appropriate another man's head. As a matter of fact there is probably no one who does not wish to be somehow other than he is. At all events there should be no one without this desire. There is no premium on secure self satisfaction at least in that part of our kingdom above the apes. Ideals are as useful as ever and as inevitable. But there is a real difference between an ideal and a pattern. Your ideal is yourself as you know you ought to be, your pattern is somebody else as you think you'd like to be. The best rule with regard to a pattern is, do not follow it too closely, for you may be sure it was not designed for you. It is an external thing, useful chiefly for purposes of comparison. The ideal within is a surer, safer guide to becoming. That is, be yourself on your own highest level, rather than your same old small self elevated by the use of another man's hat.

There is no place better suited for the development of individuality than college. At the same time there is probably no place where it is easier to become a mere imitator. Modesty of course is a virtue, so also is courage. It is better to be a voice, however still and small, than an echo. It is hard to inspect the brain of an echo, becouse of the difficulty in locating the organ. Simple genuineness, even genuine simplicity is a kind of strength. Then "screw up your courage to the sticking point," reveal that sparkling idea or burning thought, and do not be utterly chagrined to discover afterwards that Plato said the same thing in much more elegant language hundreds of years ago.

But seriously, of course the reason for differences in personality is not hard to find, and it is not improbable that there is a purpose behind these differences as well. Diversity of gifts does at all events prove to be a very happy arrangement. We have reason many times to thank the fates that not everybody is like us. If it is so good to have others different from us is it not also good that we are different from them? We must be, whether we will or not; but the point is let us be a really different thing instead of a poor imitation. The germ of each man's success is within his own individual personality. Victory is more surely gained by the developement and use of one's "peculiar" powers, than by the use of borrowed armor, which is sure to be ill-fitting and awkward however much more brightly it may shine than one's own. The world wants you.

"This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man," altho you may be notorious, and, who knows? perhaps even famous.

COLLEGE NOTES.

The class of 1915 have elected Day as captain of track.

Senior canes! Yes sir, they will be here on Junior Week.

The Faculty club met in the library at 7:30 p. m. on April 27th.

President Thomas was in Granville, N. Y., over Sunday, April 26th.

The senior girls held a prolonged meeting in the Hemicycle on April 27th.

Assistant Dean Wiley has returned to his duties after a slight attack of tonsilitis.

At a meeting of the junior class held on April 27, Dade was elected manager of track.

Philip Condit, who has been home for a time to regain strength, has returned to college.

The French club will meet at Professor Robinson's home this evening (the 29th) at 8 o'clock.

Dan O. Mason has returned to college after an extended vacation at his home at Hardwick.

"Casey" Jones is also out for the track team. He deserves this paragraph by himself.

Seltzer '17 will return to college some time this week. He has been detained at his home in New London, Conn., by illness.

Everybody out for the Interclass Track meet on Saturday, May 2d. at 2 p. m., on Porter Field. Admission 25 cents.

The second team held a meeting on the morning of the 28th and elected Schwarzwalder, '16, captain for this season.

"The Tangoites" (Logan-Dwire's) and the "Hot Cross Buns" (Taylor's) are the latest additions to the Hash House League.

There was an important meeting of the social service committee of the Middlebury Union in chapel at 1:15 p. m. on April 28th.

The draft and forced conscription of volunteers is not very effective among the juniors. Soldiers for the play are mighty scarce.

Whitney '14 returned last week from Worcester, Mass., where he was a guest at the wedding of a prominent Worcester couple.

The affirmative team of Middlebury's victorious debaters lined up for a photo on the 28th. Delay caused by absence of one of the members.

Executive committee of Middlebury Union held a short meeting after chapel on April 27th. "Cheer leaders" was the subject under discussion.

Verne Snow has left college to assume a position in Hastings, Florida, for the remainder of the year. He will resume his college course next fall.

The Massachusetts club has elected the following officers: President, A. L. Kimball, '15: vice-president, Miss Hayes, '15; secretary, Miss Keet; treasurer, H. Cook. '17;

A senior concert committee was elected on April 28th. It is composed of H. K. Cassavant, R. S, Esten, Misses Vera Suter, Ethel Magoon, Gladys Wilson, Florine Parker.

The Interfraternity conference held a meeting on Tuesday, April 28th to round out its work in preparation for the new rnles which are to go into effect next year.

Lawrence Cluff left Saturday for Hyde Park, Mass., where he will attend the marriage of his brother this week. Mr. Cluff's brother, Howard Cluff, has been a visitor at the college and he has the congratulations of the many friends he made while in Middlebury.

D. Leigh Calvin will lecture under the auspices of the Middlebury College Prohibition League at the hemicycle during the first week of May on "The College Man and the Liquor Conflict." Secretary Paulsen feels highly gratified at having such a well known prohibitionist as Mr. Calvin come to Middlebury. It is hoped that a large attendance will be had on this occasion to greet Mr. Calvin and to show Middlebury's attitude on a question of such vital importance to the college man of today. The exact date will be announced later.

O X Q'S ME COLUMN.

"Cab" '15 and Carl Kuebler '17 are ready to give lessons in fancy batting for prospective members of the Hash House League.

If any senior feels nervous over past deeds or future record he should call on Jack Vail and get in strong. Class prophets are sometimes dangerous.

The Band Dance.

Last Wednesday evening, April the 22nd, the College Band gave a dance in the gymnasium, some of the proceeds of which are to be used to pay for the new bandmen's uniforms. Music was furnished by the full band of eighteen men who appeared in their new uniforms of blue military jackets and caps and white duck trousers. Dancing was enjoyed until midnight. Dean Throop, Dr. Harrington and Professor and Mrs. Voter were the chaperons.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'63. George W. Lewis died after a sickness of three months at Summit, N. J., on April 13, 1914. Mr. Lewis was a resident of California for many years but recently had resided in Rutherford and Summit, N. J. He is survived by his widow.

'11. Stephen Doody spent his Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Doody of Middlebury. "Steve" will complete his third year as teacher of French in the Littleton, N. H., High school, this June. His name has been suggested for the position of Superintendent of Schools in that town, next year.

'12. Edward J. Ryan, now a student at the Yale Law school is expected in Middlebury commencement week. Aside from his duties in the law school, Ryan is assistant librarian in the Yale college library.

'13. Theron Culver has resumed his duties as principal of the Conway, Mass., High school after a vacation spent in Middlebury and South Royalton, Vt.

Miss Kathleen Hunt, '13, has been visiting her parents in Middlebury.

ex-'13. R. J. Ellsbury spent Sunday last in town. Ellsbury is engaged in the marble business with the Vermont Marble Co., at their offices in Proctor.

ex-15. E. N. Gosselin, now a junior at Yale University, is advertising manager of the "Yale Freshman Blue Book" of the present year. He has forwarded a copy to Dean Wiley and this may be examined in the Library where it will be placed.

The Board of Editors of THE CAMPUS will be very thankful to receive alumni notes from any source. We will be more than pleased to receive information of this kind from our alumni subscribers.

The Greatest Painting in the World.

Such was the title of a lecture given in the Latin room on Friday afternoon by Prof. Sanford at an open meeting of the Apollo club. The painting in question was Michael Angelo's Last Judgment which is executed on the ceiling of the Sistine chapel at Rome. There were numerous slides to illustrate the lecture which showed the beauty and strength of the figures and the powerfulness of the design. The Latin room was filled to the doors, thus showing the growing appreciation of Middlebury students for art in its various forms. We hope for more of these lectares in the future.

The Mid-semester Test.

(Apologies to Shakespeare.)

Is this a test which I do see before me,
The paper in my hand? Come, let me clutch thee.
I know thee not, and yet I see thee still.
Art thou not, fatal vision, sensible
To feeling and to Paine? or art thou
A dagger of the mind, a false creation
Proceeding from the heat-oppressed brain?
I see thee yet, gaze upon thee,
Thou showest me the way that I am going
And such a fool as I was to elect so vile a course.

I go and it is done. The bell invites me.
Alas! 'tis flunked! 'tis only one more proof
That soon, oh! soon I leave this college roof.

Keep a-going!

We are all praise for the fellow who can win! By the by, you fellows started a winner a few years ago. We first offered Fatima Cigarettes for sale in the college towns. We put excellent tobacco in this smoke—we watched you! Quick enough you discovered them, and that the tobacco was likable, and from this small beginning they have "kept going" all over this big country until today they are the biggest selling cigarette in the U. S. A.! Plain package, but 20 choice ones.
